REMOVAL OF IBM MAINFRAME CONTINUOUS FEED 6262 LINE PRINTERS

Issue Date: February 16, 2006
Effective Date: March 16, 2006
Section/Group: ITS Operations and Print Services
Submitted by: Employee Name
Approved by: Jim Calaway

As of February 28, 2006, ITS will no longer offer print services on the continuous feed line printers. The print volume for these printers no longer supports the maintenance and paper costs; therefore, it is no longer feasible to continue operating these printers.

ITS has worked with each agency using the printers for pre-printed forms, moving their work to the laser printer.

Class A Output

After February 28, 2006, all class "A" jobs will be printed on the laser printer, on 8 ½ x 11 no hole paper, which is shaded to simulate green bar. No change to JCL will be necessary to print Class A output.

Class J Output

Occasionally customers run print output in Class J for green bar paper and continuous feed labels. After February 28, 2006, this output class will no longer be valid.
